It came up very suddenly,

As for the crops, corn will do better than was anticipated; but oats will be almos' a total failure, on account of the rust. Wheat is pretty good. The wet weather this spring seriously affected the sugar-cane crop; that which was planted early was all "drowned out;" that which was planted late will do pretty well. The Prospects of Trade.

The old adage, "in times of peace prepare for war," is being exemplified by the wholesale merchants of Louisville. They are actively preparing for the fall campaign.

In all the leading departments of trade and ctures, Louisville is amply prepared to furnish supplies, and at prices that must make it the object of every dealer to canvass and examine. In manufactured wares, Louisville is fast centering a large and growing trade. Indeed it must, from its locality, become the leading last, by which his life is endangered. While ficer last Saturday. The addition to the circulation is the usual result or quarter day, in the payment and receipt of house-rents &c., on or about the list of August. The Banks are naw prepared with inthe hirty-five millions to meet the temporary transfers to the Sub-Treasury, which the new loau will immediately require. And the remittance from California is to be added in a few days; so the probability is, that the operation in question will not reduce the specie in lank below thirty millions. At the time of tunking up this report it was not known in the street what proportion of the loam will fall to New York, and to foreign account, to be provided for at New York.

JOHN DEAN AND THE NEWSPAPERS -John Dean, who married Miss Boker, has called upon the editor of the Brooklyn Daily Times to deprecate the unhandsome allusions to him made in a paragraph copied from a Boston newspaper into that journal. Mr. Dean enjoys a situation in the custom-house, and resides with his wife in a pretty locality in Williamsburg, and is annoyed by these statements, because they rob him of that seclusion which he and his wife are most anxious to make their own. The paper in question observes:

Mr. John Dean is not at all the offensive 230 looking fellow he has been pictured. On the contrary, he is a comely, smart-looking, sober, well-dressed young man, fit to pass muster any where. His hair is black-not red, as the sei sationist who penned the paragraph alluded to states—and, were it not for his accent, he would pass for an American. Mr. Dean thinks there would not have been so much said about him help it if he would, and would not if he could. Mr. Dean came to Williamsburg in hopes of realizing that privacy for himself and his lady which, after the unpleasant bruiting of their names far and wide, they felt to be so desirable; but even in this, it appears, he has thus far been disappointed. The citizens of Craytonville, in Anderson district, the birth place of Hon. James L. Orr, Speaker of the House of Representatives, have tendered him a public dinner, which will take place on the 12th of August.

Between now and the 8th of November next the free States will elect 127 out of the 236 members of the next United States House of Representatives, leaving nine to be elected in March and April next—three in New Hamp-ehire, four in Connecticut, and two in Rhode Island. Vermont will commence the election of members to Congress September 7, and Maine will follow six days later in the same month. The Middle and Western States will elect their 115 in October and November.

The Eastport (Me.) Sentinel speaks of a story afloat, that a boat was last week seen near West Quoddy, without any one on board. Up-on rowing to it, it was found to have a fishing line attached to it, which being hauled in, showed one hook attached to a halibut and the other to the wrist of a man. The supposition was that the fish had been hauled to the surface, when by some accident the hook caught in the wrist of the man, who was carried overboard by the weight of the fish.
